NAGARA barrel trips will soon be the diversion of all visitors. It's so easy to do.

Mexico keeps the Administration on the anxious bench. Cutting himself isn't comfortable.

In New York had a stomach the frequent disclosures of official corruption would turn it.

Col. Lonsdale presides gracefully over a county convention, but the really solid things are not for David.

The London Times' opinion on the Cutting case is about as intelligent as usual when that paper deals with affairs in this country.

New York goes from Wall street to Central Park, to the Grand Opera, to Newport, and while she is away the politicians get their work in.

Texas doesn't seem to understand that a State can't declare war. Her statesmen, if she has any, ought to tell her about the Constitution of the United States.

It was just as well that the Democrats over the river abandoned the scheme to induce a Republican to try his luck as an independent. That sort of thing wouldn't take.

The Democrats of the district over the river were unwilling to say that the ousting of the bogus Senators from Hamilton county was "an act of revolution and usurpation." They knew it was.

SCIENTIFIC experts have discovered that it never hurts a town for its own people to help it along, everybody doing all he can and nobody being afraid of doing more than his share. B-n-t-a-o-d-t-u-l.

CHINAMEN have found that the best way to smuggle themselves into this country is via Mexico. It is very easy to conceal themselves under the Mexican sombrero and masquerade as many tons of lead.

At last Kelly, who wasn't received by Austin, goes to Egypt to hold court. It would be terribly gratifying if the Khedive were to shut the door on Mr. Kelly. Somehow or other these statesmen must be provided for.

WALLACE forgot that Black is a young man, able to rise early and lose some sleep for a few weeks. Therefore Wallace is in a fair way not to get the Democratic nomination for Governor of Pennsylvania, which for some reason or other he thinks would be worth having.

It seems that there is an old indictment on the shelf in Texas against Mondragon, the Mexican chief of police, who cruelly murdered an American prisoner. The Texas authorities are taking steps to have Mondragon extradited, so that they may try him for the crime he is charged with.

The Louisville manufacturers will consult their interest by pulling up and coming to Wheeling, where they can get plenty of natural gas and have their choice between two companies that have shown they mean business. It must be very disappointing to depend on the "subtle fluid" and not get enough of it.

This Register doesn't like this newspaper's position on the question of submission. We feared this. For itself the Register takes the high ground—and says it is good Democratic ground—that the prohibitory amendment should not be submitted, because it would certainly be adopted by the people. Yet there are prohibitionists who want to help the Register's party with a third ticket. Funny, isn't it?

This Chamber of Commerce has taken hold in earnest of the soldiers' reunions. It will help to make a success of the reunion of next month, and it will at once raise a guarantee fund in behalf of next year's meeting of the Society of the Army of West Virginia. We have an idea that every business man will want to be represented in that fund. Wheeling will make a dash for the honor of entertaining the Society, and we think she will get there. In these days we are booming the old town.

Soon the boys and girls will be going back to school. Already parents are considering where they shall send their children. It is a good thing in this as in other matters to give home the preference. In the Linn Institute for boys Wheeling has an endowed institution which belongs to her, which has made an honorable record, and which it ought to be her pride to make all that it can be made. With proper encouragement the Linn could be made to attract patronage from all the country round, to the great benefit of the city. We are glad to know that the prospects for the coming year are good.

Government Receipts.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12.—The receipts of the Government in the West have been nearly $2,000,000 in excess of the receipts during the same period of last year. The increase was about $2,000,000 from customs and about $1,800,000 from internal Revenue. The figures are not so indicative of a good state of business throughout the country.

CUTTING'S CASE

IS DISCUSSED IN MEXICO

By the Press and Lawyers, but Without Heat or Excitement—The Legal Points Raised—Senator Beck thinks Secretary Bayard was too Masly.

CITY OF MEXICO, August 12.—The discussion of the Cutting case goes on in the press and among the lawyers whom it interests because of the important questions raised, but there is no heat in the discussion. The better class of people hope the two governments will settle the matter by a mutually friendly adjustment or through equally friendly arbitration. An interesting question is propounded by a leading lawyer here who asks if Cutting be guilty of libel on both sides of the river, why cannot the Appellate Court of the State of Chihuahua render a judgment for the crime on the Mexican and not on the American side, thus relieving the case of its international character.

The resignation of Gen. Jackson, United States Minister, is said to be positive and general regret is expressed by resident Americans. The Minister has won the warm approval of all classes by his dignified and prudent course.

Senator Beck on the Cutting Affair.

BALTIMORE, August 12.—The Sun of today has the following interview with Senator Beck on the proceedings in Mexico against A. K. Cutting: The Senator informed the Sun correspondent that he does not believe upon the ordinary intelligence can question for a moment the aggressiveness of the present Administration in battling with all public questions, be they foreign or domestic. He stated most emphatically that there is no ground for doubting the courage of the State Department in dealing with the Cutting case; on the contrary, the Senator is inclined to think that the Secretary of State has, if anything, been too aggressive in the Mexican matter. He said that the United States should try to induce Mexico to repeal the law which renders an American citizen punishable in Mexico for his utterances in the United States. It is a bad law, and will create mischief as long as it remains upon the Mexican statute book; but we cannot gain anything by declaring war against Mexico, for if we did we would simply place ourselves in the attitude of a big man picking a quarrel with a small boy.

Cutting's Case Appealed.

DENVER, COLO., August 12.—An El Paso special this evening says: Cutting was again taken from his prison and dragged before Judge Casteneda's court. He was merely taken in his case by the lawyer who had been appointed for him would be tried by the Supreme Court of the State of Chihuahua in a few days, and he was asked if he desired to have an appeal. He replied that he had already appealed, and he would not appeal again. He replied that he had already appealed, and he would not appeal again. He replied that he had already appealed, and he would not appeal again.

LONDON "Times" on Cutting's Case. LONDON, August 12.—The Times, speaking of the Cutting case, says: "The chief difficulty in the way of a settlement of the matter lies in Cutting's appeal to the angry passions of the Texas people. On both sides of the frontier an outbreak which would result in the restoration of contraband trade. President Diaz, of Mexico, can have no wish for a collision with his powerful neighbor, and must be well aware that the coming of the Texas army to the aid of the frontier who are clamoring for war. Mexico has been surprisingly reasonable in dealing with Cutting, considering the provocation he gave, and although Secretary Bayard is certainly right in his action, the action of the President and the Senate is all that could be desired. In that action lies the assurance of peace."

AN ITALIAN HANGED

At Uniontown, Pa., for the Murder of a Fellow Countryman.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., August 12.—Michael Meis, the Italian who murdered Casende last September, was hanged at 2 P. M. today. The confession which he is alleged to have made last night, has not yet been made public. Metz passed a very restless night, and was almost in a state of collapse at the time of execution. The hanging was witnessed by about one hundred people, including the Sheriff of Westmoreland, Greene and Somerset counties.

The crime for which Metz suffered the extreme penalty was committed under the following circumstances: On the morning of September 11, 1885, Michael Meis and his wife were found on him, and the chain of circumstantial evidence so strongly against him that he was convicted of the murder of Casende, and extremely angry and thoughtful. When the death warrant was read to him, shortly after his conviction, he pretended to be ignorant of its meaning. "I do not understand," he said, after the document had been read. His face, however, evinced that he knew the reading meant something of more than ordinary importance, and when the sheriff told him that he was to be hanged, he burst into a fit of hysterical laughter, and then he died.

Kelly Gets There at Last.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12.—In 1876 as the result of negotiations between the Ottoman and Egyptian governments and the various Christian powers having representatives at Cairo certain countries were created in Egypt for the trial of mixed civil cases arising between persons of different foreign nationalities and suits of foreigners against the Egyptian government and members of the Khedive's family. A. M. Kelly has been appointed to represent the United States in the court of the first instance at Cairo to succeed Mr. Geo. Batchelor, of New York, who has filled the position since 1875.

The Mountain Lake Park Hotel, after a thorough repairing and preparation, is again open for guests. The rates are as reasonable as will allow for a first-class and comfortable of its patrons. Mr. H. H. Van Meter, the owner, still manages it.

SQUIRE AND FLYNN

Arraigned in Court—Both Men Enter Pleas of Not Guilty.

New York, August 12.—Messrs. Squire and Flynn appeared this morning to enter pleas to the indictments found against them on Monday last by the grand jury. This formality is a very mild affair when considered in connection with the wild excitement which attended their appearance before the same bar two days ago. Judge Cowing presided, and was on hand early prepared to hear from the lips of the accused or through their legal representatives, the simple word indicating whether they acknowledged the many allegations contained in the lengthy document presented against them by the grand jury. Politicians and other friends of the distinguished prisoners were conspicuous by their absence. When the call came out "Rollin' M. Squire and Maurice B. Flynn, on bail, to the bar," there was no response, and the proceedings were deferred for a few minutes, at the end of which the defendants walked in with their counsel. They at once stepped to the bar and the clerk said:

"Rollin' M. Squire and Maurice B. Flynn, you are indicted for a misdemeanor. Are you guilty or not guilty?"

We declare, said Mr. Newcombe, their counsel, "that the plea be entered separately. In behalf of Mr. Flynn we plead not guilty, but reserve the right to withdraw this plea and interpose any other which may be decided upon by the court."

"I think," said Judge Cowing, "that the form of your plea is perfectly proper, providing you yourself of the right to enter such a plea. I think you could enter a special plea within a week."

"The indictment is a long story," said Mr. Newcombe, of the defense, "and I must explain it carefully, but a week will probably suffice."

Assistant District Attorney Nicoll said he wanted to notify the defendants and their counsel that he would move for the trial on the first Monday of September to cover the parts of the General Sessions Court.

Mr. Newcombe suggested that the case be called then for the purpose of fixing a day for the trial, but Mr. Nicoll said that the trial would go on upon that day. "I am sorry," said one of the defendant's counsel (meaning Colonel "Bob" Ingalls), "would leave this country on Saturday to have an operation performed on his throat in Paris. He would be gone until the middle of September and perhaps longer."

Mr. Nicoll contended that this was not sufficient grounds for a postponement, and Judge Cowing set the case down for trial on September 5th.

Hon. D. H. Leonard presided at the convention of the American Democratic Association of Senators. He explained in his opening address that he was not disgraced; that he was a Democrat from principle, not for office and that he would always be a Democrat for the sake of the principle. He said that he was a Democrat from principle, not for office and that he would always be a Democrat for the sake of the principle.

A BARGAIN AND SALE.

Another Correspondent Tells How Camden and Jackson Captured "The Convention."

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., August 12.—The worst out and dried affair ever known met here this afternoon, and was denominated the Democratic County Convention. Harmony with a high was the distinguishing feature. The lion and the lamb have laid down together, and which is inside the other remains to be seen. The absolute union of the Camden and Jackson elements reminded the beholder that oil and vinegar will mix sometimes. The convention was held in the evening, and was a success. The speakers were Mr. Leonard, Camden, and Mr. Jackson, Camden. The speakers were Mr. Leonard, Camden, and Mr. Jackson, Camden.

Mr. Walker then read a passage from Meis' Revolutionary Warfare" telling how praiseworthy could be a man who, in the name of the law, makes the more deadly. Walker waved the dagger before the eyes of the jury and pointed out the similarity between the Haymarket bomb and those found in Ling's room.

Some excitement was created in court this morning by rumors that the defense had been boasting that a disagreement of the jury in a certain case. The matter being investigated by Mr. Grinnell. From secret sources the fact has been ascertained that considerable sums are being received in this city in aid of the defense of the Anarchists. The fact of the matter being collected for this purpose, of which nearly one-half has come from sympathizers with the Anarchists in London, Paris, Berlin and other places. Only a few days ago remittances aggregating nearly one hundred dollars were received from Warsaw and Cracow, Poland, with the promise that much more would be forthcoming if needed. The expense of the defense has so far been light, and it is said that the defense will be able to carry the case to the court of last resort and the execution of the sentence for an indefinite period.

WOOD COUNTY CONVENTION.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., August 12.—The Democratic County Convention took place at the court house this afternoon and was a very tame affair when compared with the usual circus which signifies the coming together of the unfriended in convention. All the work of the convention was cut and dried, and what was called by courtly a nominating convention was nothing more than a ratting of the candidates for the various positions assigned them. All the candidates, all the delegates and all the members of the various committees were brought into the convention on lists of names, and the delegates were instructed for Judge J. M. Jackson, Camden and Jackson factions have buried the hatchet, at least to all outward appearance. The Senator got his list of delegates appointed to represent him at the Senatorial Convention, and the convention was a success. The speakers were Mr. Leonard, Camden, and Mr. Jackson, Camden.

There was no fiction excepting when one old wheel-horse, who was not posted, made a few remarks, but he was soon backed and gagged. The proceedings of the convention proved two things very conclusively, one was that Senator Camden has the Wood County Democracy by the throat and can manipulate it at his own sweet will.

Another point proved was that the Camden and Jackson factions have buried the hatchet, at least to all outward appearance. The Senator got his list of delegates appointed to represent him at the Senatorial Convention, and the convention was a success. The speakers were Mr. Leonard, Camden, and Mr. Jackson, Camden.

In order to ironclad the instructions a resolution was passed which provided that no proxies should be recognized by the Wood county delegations in the two conventions.

At the close of the proceedings Judge Jackson was called for and addressed the convention in the usual strain employed on such occasions. The convention nominated for the House of Delegates W. N. Chancellor, of Parkersburg; A. A. Keller, of Williams district, and Thomas H. Butcher, of State district. The first named is the present Mayor of Parkersburg and represents the home rule element. The second, Mr. Keller is at present County Commissioner, and is regarded as the strongest man in the party. He has been training for the Sheriffship for several years, and is a Republican by inclination, and they bank on Republican support for him.

Levi Stephens was nominated for County Commissioner. Hon. D. H. Leonard presided at the convention of the American Democratic Association of Senators. He explained in his opening address that he was not disgraced; that he was a Democrat from principle, not for office and that he would always be a Democrat for the sake of the principle.

For Sheriff the present efficient incumbent, Hugh F. McDonald, was renominated with a shout. For Commissioner, J. B. Hartley was renominated.

For Surveyor two candidates were announced, Prof. W. R. Scott and William J. Neeter. The latter was nominated on the first ballot.

THIRD PARTY CONVENTION

At Ritchie Court House—Some Mistake-makes Corrected.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR:—I had no idea of writing you a word about this Ritchie court Third Party Convention of August 7th, but the strong impression given of it by your special correspondent should be corrected. He tells your readers that it was a small affair, held in a church and that the vote would be correspondingly small. The facts are that the principal meeting was held in the evening, and was a success. The speakers were Mr. Leonard, Camden, and Mr. Jackson, Camden.

ported the usual rules for the Convention's management. The Committee on Resolutions reported the following:

Chairman—T. M. Johnson. Secretaries—A. C. Gates and Joseph Hughes.

The Committee on Resolutions reported the following:

Resolved, First—That we condemn the administration of the general government as weak and vacillating, except in its adherence to the interests of rebels and rebel sympathizers. [Applause.]

Second—That we condemn the course of the Republican members of the United States Senate in ignoring the charges against the election of Henry B. Payne as United States Senator from Ohio.

Third—That we endorse the administration of Governor Foraker and the measures and policy of the present General Assembly.

Fourth—That we do most heartily endorse the candidacy of Hon. Joseph D. Taylor for Congress. With a full appreciation of his able representation of this district during his single term in Congress, and of the brilliant facts made by him in 1881 against overruling order, we desire to express our continued confidence in his ability, integrity and Republicanism. We further desire to express our unqualified disapproval of and utter disbelief in the boodler's slanders with which he has been assailed. [Applause.]

Fifth—That we utterly condemn all dishonesty in elections and demand the severest punishment of all boodlers, balance box stealers, and repeaters, wherever, whenever and wherever found. [Applause.]

Sixth—That this convention recommend to the Republican State Convention the name of Elijah Burgess as a suitable candidate for election as United States Senator from Ohio.
